LSE-Sawiris Scholarship Program

Executive MSc in Cities

SAWIRIS FOUNDATION
سازیریس فاؤنڈیشن

The Executive MSc in Cities is an 18-month master’s programme based at the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE). The programme trains urban leaders and changemakers to understand how cities can be better managed, governed and designed, while equipping them with the skills they need to deliver these changes. Teaching is delivered in a modular format, consisting of five one-week residential sessions in London where participants are exposed to the latest analysis, strategy and delivery tools to address urgent issues of urban inequality, economic development and environmental sustainability. Participants are not required to be resident in London outside of teaching modules, allowing them to continue working while studying.

The LSE-Sawiris Scholarships provides support for urban practitioners working in the public and third (non-profit) sectors who are passionate about achieving positive change in Egyptian cities. All applicants are expected to demonstrate that they are actively working in an urban-related role and are dedicated to making a visible impact in their field. Applications are particularly welcome from those working in government (local or national) or small, grassroots charities that aim to improve the wellbeing of their community.

Teaching Method: Classroom, Leadership Development Program, Site and Organization Visits, and Distance Learning.

Sawiris Foundation has always prided itself with ensuring quality education, both traditional and nontraditional, is accessible to everyone. One of our goals is to ensure all students have an accessible and inclusive environment to learn.
